

SHIPPING LIVE STOCK IN WEST

A. F. Dillinger Reports on Conditions of Live Stock and Transportation in the West

Oct. 22.—A. F. Dillinger, retaining authority to the railway commission, has issued a preliminary report on the question of live stock shipments.

Mr. Dillinger was directed by the commission to inquire into the whole of the shipping of cattle.

Mr. Dillinger has been investigating of the whole subject with the aid of the following:

He travelled extensively over C.P.R., C.N.R. and G.T.P. and made a first hand study of the whole problem.

He has also received many important recommendations to the commission which will likely be acted upon.

His recommendations are all towards improving the conditions for shippers in the west.

He suggests that the railway companies be made responsible for the con-

Another suggestion is that all yards except where there are gravel bottoms be floored with old ties and covered with cinders, providing a proper drainage. This he thinks, will be more economical and will last for years.

A third recommendation is that the practice of building stock yards in connection with grain-loading platforms be discontinued. It is impossible, he points out, to load stock at

Probably the most important recommendation from the shipper's standpoint is that the railways establish

A valuable feature of Mr. Dillinger's report is the wealth of detail as to the shipping done in the west. He has visited every shipping point in the west and embodies in his report the condition of the yards, any improvements that have been made, and what is shipped, etc. The report is almost encyclopedic in nature.

Another feature of the report is the information as to the stock shipments of last year from all points in the West. This is the result of his investigation in part:

A MURDER AND A SUICIDE.

Delayed the Cause of a Double Tragedy at Skagway.

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—Enraged by the fancy that Jack Stewart had been paying too much attention to his wife while she was out, Boardman shot Stewart to the neck at Skagway, on the night of October 10th, and then turned the revolver on himself, putting a bullet through his temple on the right side and leaving his left eye clean out of its socket. Both men were Klondike miners and both probably by this time will be dead in the hospital at Skagway.

The attempt at murder and suicide took place in Flah Avenue Hotel, Skagway. Boardman left Dawson two months ago and was waiting in Skagway for his wife. She and Stewart arrived on the same time, though it is stated they were not traveling in company. Stewart was sitting in the hotel office after dinner when Boardman entered, and without further delay at him, Stewart fell at the first shot and Boardman set no time in shooting himself. They were both Englishmen and intended spending the winter in Victoria.

TO CHALLENGE FOR THE CUP.

The challenges of the Edmonton Hockey Club for the Stanley Cup is being forwarded to the trustees, P. D. Ross and Wm. Foran, of Ottawa, to day.

At a well attended meeting of the executive held in the Union Trust Company's office yesterday afternoon it was unanimously decided to challenge again this year for the coveted silver trophy, emblematic of the championship of the Dominion, which Edmonton came so near to winning last season.

Secretary Chauvin was instructed to draw up the challenge and forward it to Ottawa today.

"The executive consider the new regulations to be of the fairest," said Mr. Chauvin to the Bulletin this morning. "They matured against our other than bona fide clubs being admitted as competitors for the trophy. There is no reason why Edmonton should not life the cup this year. Lots of people considered Edmonton's challenge a joke last year, but the record of the team don't show only one page on the whole told showed it to be a frequent caller to stay in Canada. Six of last year's players are available. Miller, who played right wing; Deaton, centre; Whitcroft, rover; Bolton, left wing; Ross, ever-point; and Winchester, goal. There is also a good possibility of our securing the services of the famous Foster Patrick, who played point for us last year. Patrick is now at Nelson, B. C., and has been elected captain of the Nelson hockey team, which is of course barred from challenging for the cup by the new regulations."

The men of the Edmonton team have played together for several years and have been for a long time regarded locally as an invincible aggregation. Last year they slipped into the limelight at Montreal and established a continental reputation. In the first game with the Wanderers Edmonton was defeated by three goals away two men, Tom Phillips and McNamara, had been crippled in the first half. Phillips with a broken ankle and McNamara with a twisted knee. The second game was won by Edmonton by one goal, leaving a margin of two goals in favor of the Wanderers.

"Our team is one of the best in the world, Deaton has so equal as a centre forward and the rest of the players are of the same caliber."

The members of the Edmonton Hockey Club executive are as follows: Hon. President, J. A. McKinnon; Vice President, A. M. Stubbart; first vice president, All. Krupp; second vice president, Geo. B. McLeod; third vice president, H. H. Foran; secretary, Ernest E. Chauvin; treasurer, P. J. Day; committee, H. A. Hollister, P. E. Leonard, J. W. Munn, R. J. Mason, Chas. May, J. H. McKinnon, J. H. McCull, Dr. G. F. Strong and W. H. Wickham.

The date of the annual meeting has been called for Friday, October 29.

TAMMANY LEADER DEAD.

Senator McGarran Brooklyn's Political Leader Passes Away.

New York, Oct. 22.—Patrick Henry McGarran, State Senator, political ruler of Brooklyn and a familiar figure to all New Yorkers, died at 1:30 o'clock this morning in St. Catherine's hospital, Brooklyn. The end was quiet and peaceful amid visits and prayers of the Catholic church. The long, dark leader slipped into unconsciousness at 12:30 after two hours, the only relatives present, had kissed him good-bye.

Previous to the end the Senator delegated a committee that was to break the news of his passing to his aged mother. He selected for this task his niece Anastasia and Frances McGarran, his physician, Dr. Peter Hurley, and the Rev. Father Sumner. "Let her know," he said, "as gently as you can."

BOWLING.

A SIX TEAM LEAGUE.

"It looks good," said Secretary Michael of the Edmonton Bowling League this morning. "As if there will be but six teams in the League this year. The Bowlers, Elks and Independents are all ready for action at the Club alleys, as are also the teams which will represent the Y.M.C.A. and Strathcona. At the Olympic alleys but one team have come through and that is Sam Schultz's Olympic."

The Club's which were organized and represented several times at the league meeting got told feet from contemplating the strength of Sam's constitution of stars and will probably back out, and the same reason seems to have prevented the organization of the much desired eighth team to round out the league. However, the whole committee are at work on the six team league, and a final struggle is still in sight for the other bowling pin.

There is talk of organizing a junior league at the Olympic alleys.

BOVRIL FOR THE WORKERS

We work at high pressure. We need food that gives strength to maintain this.

There are thousands who are never at their best—easily tired, quickly exhausted and soon discouraged.

This is often caused by faulty nutrition because hard work or worry prevents the system from assimilating the nourishment contained in ordinary foods.

Bovril contains all the nourishment of beef in the form which is most easily assimilated. It is in itself a food, and moreover gives the system power to extract the full benefit from every day diet.

If you are run down, through over-work or over worry, Bovril will do more for you than any other food or medicine.

If you are well, and want to keep well, ready to meet the day's most exacting demands, fortify yourself generously with

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1909.

The Calgary Alberta notes an improvement in the corporate disposition of the Alberta people. It says: "Up to date the people of Edmonton have made no request for the government taxal parks, which shows that the people of Edmonton are becoming more moderate in their demands as they grow older."

In his annual report, Manitoba's

Minister of Education calculates that there are 92,400 children in the Province of school age. Of these, 37,000 that 33,884 attend school on the average, while he guesses that 4,000 more may go to private and church schools.

The seems to mean that 37,000 of every 92 Manitobans of the on-coming generation are getting a common school education. In some cases, the those who will migrate to the other Provinces are among the 37.

Canadians have profound reason to honor the national day of Thanksgiving.

"We are not poor," they cheerfully blow us with another epithet hard-heart. Being conditions in financial distress have started the wheels of industry and commerce whirling again.

People are looking to take up, and ultimately, to regain, lost. Capital by the million is going into new railways, new mines, new mills, new facilities, new business concerns, the equipment of farms and the creation of towns. Everywhere from coast to a transformation is in progress, the old order changing to make place for a new and better. The observation of a national Thanksgiving day is a profession before the world that we do not intend to let the rule of the phenomenal material progress to sweep away or undermine the moral worth and the spiritual integrity that alone make a nation enduring or fit to endure.

Neither a charitable consideration for the welfare of others, nor an impartial regard for the welfare of the public may be the sole motive or motive behind the result of the United States newspapers against the Adlrich gang.

Two organizations representing the harvest parties in the central States have addressed a communication to President Taft which is not more interesting for what it says than for the light it throws on the tariff as seen by the consumer. These correspondents inform the President that he was grossly deceived in signing the clause of the new tariff bill which relates to the duty on print paper. This duty, they claim, was intended to be, and the President probably understood it

THE C. P. R. AGREEMENT.

The recognition has been given in the past in the unbounded ability of the experience and the many accomplishments of the gentlemen who have in time to time been seen as unbroken from the C. P. R. to carry on negotiations with the executive city councils regarding the extension of that road to the city. All that has been said of the men of both mind and manner, their clear capacity, their singleness and tenacity of purpose, their schooling in the arts of radical diplomacy, is justified by the agreement to be submitted to the ratepayers on November 18th. Whatever fate awaits the agreement, the Company must accept the same as a sign of any suspicion either of its faithfulness or of incompetence. It is even to be hoped that a copy of this document will find a place in what ever corner the Company devotes to memoranda of faithful service, and that whatever recognition of such service is customary or appropriate may be immediately conferred on the gentlemen whose loyalty and genius secured the trophy.

The agreement covers the whole question of the entrance of the road and all matters pertaining to it on which there have been negotiations. The combined bridge, the closing of certain streets, the crossing of other streets, the assumption of property damage caused by the closing and crossing of streets, all are dealt with, and all grouped together in one agreement which must be accepted or rejected. This means that if we make the agreement, and later decide for any cause that we are not disposed to put the traffic attachments on the bridge, the other portions of the agreement hold just the same; we must still close Tenth street, Peace avenue, and the crossing of the bridge in the enclosed block; must pay five thousand dollars toward the cost of a subway on Jasper avenue, and become a party to the high-level bridge, or property-holder because any street has been closed or because any is carried on the track in a subway or over it on a bridge. We must accept the agreement as a whole or drop it as a whole. We cannot express approval of the combined bridge project without thereby consenting to close the streets and assuming the liability for all property damage. Neither can we refuse to close the streets and claim to assume this improper and unknown liability without thereby also killing the clauses allowing us to put the attachments on the high-level bridge.

This of course has been the aim of the Company from the beginning, but they have succeeded in paper-making better policy than they expected. Their claim has been from the start that each party wanted something, and that they should swap concessions. The company took the position that the privilege of putting traffic attachments on the bridge would be a concession to the city, and that in return for this the city should close certain streets and should assume the damages that might be claimed because of this closure, or by reason of a subway being made on Jasper and overhead bridges on two other avenues. But if the ratepayers should ratify the agreement they bind themselves to close the streets and to pay the damages whether or not they put any traffic attachments on the bridge. And whether or not they will want to put on the attachments is as yet an open question. It depends to some extent at least on the cost, and what the cost would be to the city no one knows, and no one with responsibility seems ready to estimate. It is not even known with sufficient certainty to allow a by-law to be submitted for the money until some later date. Obviously, the ratepayers, however anxious for a combined bridge, are in position to say whether we should go ahead with it. Yet under these conditions they are to vote, on an agreement which gives the Company every concession they have asked for, whether we decide subsequently that we want the combined bridge or not. Under these circumstances the only course of safety is to reject the agreement. Meantime the Company should fail to extend some tangible mark of their esteem to the gentlemen who have so ably represented their interests on the occasion. If the ratepayers assume the trap they have set for them, that is not the fault of the Company's ambassadors. They have done what they could to conceal it.

known from one end of the Province to the other and in far-away Ontario as a most successful political orator. Some of the people at the end may raise objection that Mr. Marshall is an Edmonton man to all intents and purposes, but he is in a position to reject the agreement by saying with pride that he is now a resident of Oshawa, dividing his time between editing an up-to-date newspaper and attending to the fall plowing on his fine farm within easy reach of that enterprising town.

Also we have it that the Provincial Treasurer's portfolio will be filled by Hon. W. A. Buchanan, of Lethbridge. This will give a cabinet position to the south of the Province and will put a first class man in the position. Usually newspaper men are not authorities on lines of finance, but Mr. Buchanan, having succeeded in making more money out of a daily newspaper during the past two years than any other man in the Province, must be eminently qualified to put Provincial supervision at short notice whenever the occasion requires.

Mr. Leonard, member for Pakenia, will be minister without portfolio. He is a good business man and will be an acquisition to the cabinet.

It is believed that no opposition will be put up against the reelection of the new ministers. Mr. C. A. Macleod, M.P. for Lethbridge, although politically opposed to Mr. Buchanan, holds up both hands in favor of the appointment, and that should mean any candidate for the new minister in that constituency.

THE CABINET CHANGES.

Calgary News: Changes in the cabinet announced in the personnel of the Alberta cabinet.

Hon. W. T. Finlay, it is said, retires because of ill health. It is he so, then the many friends of Mr. Finlay will regret to learn of his retirement. He has made a competent department chief and carried with him the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact during his term of office.

The position of Minister of Agriculture, it is announced, will be filled by Mr. Duncan Marshall, who is known from one end of the Province to the other and in far-away Ontario as a most successful political orator. Some of the people at the end may raise objection that Mr. Marshall is an Edmonton man to all intents and purposes, but he is in a position to reject the agreement by saying with pride that he is now a resident of Oshawa, dividing his time between editing an up-to-date newspaper and attending to the fall plowing on his fine farm within easy reach of that enterprising town.

THE CABINET CHANGES.

Calgary Herald: Every newspaper man in Alberta, irrespective of politics, will find a pleasant place in the appointments of Duncan Marshall and W. A. Buchanan to the Provincial Cabinet. Journalism is seeking its representative into most governments these days, but it is rarely that two editors are called to the same administration on the same day. Truly the power of the editorial "pen" is emphasized in such an event.

Each of these ministers will assume their duties with the best wishes of the public. Mr. Marshall is well known in the west as a stump speaker and political organizer. He has shown much strength in the party caucus, and will be a valuable addition to the cabinet.

Mr. Buchanan is a man respected and liked by all who meet him. He may have political opinions, but he is not a politician. In his newspaper relations he is fair, generous and just a good fighter. In personal character he is a good fellow. His political principles are based on simple conviction and his moral attitude toward public questions is good. He will be a useful minister both for the party and for the public.

Of Mr. Leonard little is known here, but he is to be congratulated on his step.

Hon. Mr. Finlay will retire with the warmest wishes of the people of Alberta for his future health and welfare. He has pursued his duties under many physical difficulties and it may be that relief from the cares of office will tend to a more rapid recovery. Everyone will hope so.

French Senate Refuses to Permit It.

Paris, October 19.—M. Flaisiades, Socialist member, vainly tried to raise a discussion of the French minister of foreign affairs, emphatically refused to accept an interpellation from him on the grounds of France's absolute right to refuse to interfere in the domestic affairs of foreign countries. Moreover, he said France was bound to stand by central legislation and arrangements which the government is intended to continue in effect. He applied to the senate to postpone the interpellation indefinitely. In the result, the vote M. Flaisiades had only three supporters.

FRIDAY'S GRAIN MARKETS.

Winnipeg, October 22.—Wheat took the upturn again this morning and it began to develop the hold American millers have on December, that option in Minneapolis going up to $1.04, or 35c over the low point of Thursday, eventually it closed at $1.03, to 1/2, the strength not holding throughout the session. Chicago December, after selling up to $1.03, closed at $1.02, to 1/2, over Wednesday. The strength of these options was credited entirely to milling interests, as conditions in whole were rather more favorable than on Thursday, and cables were only 1/2c over Liverpool. Winnipeg market was strong and narrow and December sold up to 35c, but closed at 34c, or 1/2c over Wednesday. Tons were weak at the close and there was but little demand for cash wheat all morning. In speculations for the week were positive. The morning and showed a 75c, 50c bushels of wheat passed Winnipeg in seven days. Coarse grains were dull and oats closed unchanged to 1/2c lower. American corn market was free-tionally higher. Amount of business was not heavy. A heavy shortage in December was reported late in the morning. Receipts for the day were 31,000 bushels. Duluth 200,000, Minneapolis 307 cars. Winnipeg getting more than Duluth and Minneapolis combined.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, October 22.—Before leaving for the week's session, the writer would like to warn the rank and file in the trade to give the December option a wide berth in so far as the selling side of the market is concerned. This greatly congested wheat future will advance and decline under market controlling influences from day to day. But it will resist all the pressure the bears are able to give it and come out victorious. In fact there is an accumulation of cash wheat, which is not likely from the present outlook.
 There are a few good men here on the bear side of December wheat, but they have lost money and stand to add to their losses. No one can remain on the losing side.
 There are many bear shorts in this one congested month who are seldom correct in their convictions, and these speculators will continue to stand pat and will advise their friends and customers to adhere to the policy that wheat will accumulate.
 The congestion in December wheat at Minneapolis, as well as at some of the other markets of the north-west and southwest, indicates the direction of the wind at the present time.
 Premiums now being paid for the cash wheat over the futures show clearly that the shorts may sooner or later be forced to seek the big pit on Chicago to even up their contracts, with probably one man in the Chicago wheat market as an exception, the bulls have nearly every trader of strength in their ranks.
 Scattered shorts strongly pointed up every five December wheat that was put on sale. Many of them were ignorant of their weak position in the market until their attention was drawn to it in this column yesterday morning.

 Corn—Not advanced of 1/2 to 1c over made in corn. Much of the strength was doubtless borrowed from wheat. Weather predictions were for rain, which should be a demand for December.

Local bulls had the best buyers and the fact that prices did not advance would rather indicate a lack of short interest at least of a nature that would be frightened by a little wet weather.
 Cash prices unchanged with demand poor.
 The oats market steadied and was rationally higher with other grains. Local elevator interests were moderate buyers of December with continued selling.
 Under a good class of buying led by a large western packer provisions made good gains and closed firm, considerable realizing took place on the advance.

THE TRACK.

Winnipeg's success.
 Toronto, Oct. 22.—Several thousand people witnessed the thirtieth annual inter-Native athletic meet at Varsity stadium today which resulted in a decisive win for the Varsity team over the Indians.
 The meet was a great success, no less so for the Native team. The centre of attraction was the sprint. In a dash between "Red Hatter" and "Red Hatter" of Varsity. The former demonstrated that he is the athlete to whom Canada has to look in future when Bobbie Kerr gives up the game.

IS THE C.P.R. BEHIND THIS RESIGNATIONS

Rumor Spread in British Columbia Giving This as Reason for Retirement of Two Cabinet Ministers. McBride Will See Railway Policy Through Despite Opposition.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 22.—Hon. W. J. Bowser, Attorney-general, and acting minister of finance, said today: "Hon. R. G. Tait and Hon. F. J. Fulton have for some time been contemplating retirement from public life. The policy of Premier McBride and their other colleagues upon the railway question not being acceptable to them has expedited their resignations. Hon. Mr. Fulton was particularly strongly opposed to any kind of aid to any railway, believing that British Columbia's prominence and growth must bring railways here without aid. Hon. Mr. Tait does not go that far. He is in favor of moderate assistance but not to the extent that Premier McBride has given. Both feel, therefore, that they are no longer in harmony in the cabinet."

Good Feeling Exists.

There is, however, the utmost good feeling between the retiring members. Hon. Mr. Tait, remaining in his office for the next few days to assist in getting a grip of financial affairs. Hon. Mr. Fulton on the other hand leaves on Sunday for Kamloops to meet his local executive to assist in bringing out the strongest possible Conservative candidate for that riding to support Premier McBride. A successor will not be appointed to Hon. Mr. Tait until after the election. I will administer the department in the meantime."

It is understood semi-officially that Price Ellison, ex-McGowan, will immediately be appointed successor to Hon. Mr. Fulton. The government have announced that the office will be filled within a week.

Premier McBride and Hon. Mr. Bowser will open the campaign at Kamloops on Monday, November 1st. They will tour the entire province, closing the campaign with meetings during the last week of it at Vancouver and Victoria.

Statements of Tait and Fulton.

Hon. Mr. Tait announces that he will not be a candidate at the coming elections. He said: "I am in perfect accord with Premier McBride with a single exception, the railway policy. I think the Canadian Northern has been granted too much and especially should not have been given exemption from taxation. I will probably go to England to reside."

Hon. Mr. Fulton said: "The Canadian Northern was coming away from there to build to the coast and aid, even in the government guarantee of bonds, was unnecessary. I have absolutely no other quarrel with the government."

In Vancouver the resignations have been received by the Conservatives with mixed feelings. With Hon. W. J. Bowser named as acting finance minister and Hon. Mr. Tait, who is not generally believed the retiring ministers will take any active part in the campaign against Premier McBride. Hon. Mr. Tait, it has been known for some time has become somewhat weary of public life. The fact that Hon. Mr. Fulton has been solicitor for the C.P.R. at Kamloops has led to the rumor that the C.P.R. is behind the resignations, but there is no authority given for it. Premier McBride will see the C.N.R. scheme through in its entirety, he says, in spite of the resignations.

BETTER RATES FOR EXHIBITION.

Calgary Exhibition Company Has Case Against C.N.R.

Calgary, Oct. 22.—The railway commission set up here today. The first application considered was that of the Alberta Provincial Exhibition company to compel the C.N.R. to give better passenger rates during the exhibition on their line to parties wishing to attend the annual show. W. H. Shaw, traffic manager of the C.N.R. advised the commissioners that the railway officials and exhibition officials were getting together and he believed an amicable settlement would be reached. The commissioners gave the C.N.R. until the end of the year to accept matters.

Sugar Refinery for St. John.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 21.—C. Durand, of New York; M. M. Day, of Montreal, and others associated with him, will erect a sugar refinery in St. John to cost $2,000,000 and to employ 400 men. Mr. Durand and Mr. Day have been here for several days interviewing the city government and the society will not have an opportunity of seeing them for probably some months. It did not even lead to direct action on Commander Peary's observations until Dr. Cook's journal were received.

Who Will Be Judges.

An even dozen members of world wide standing constitute the research committee of the National Geographic Society, which is to judge on the merits of the North Pole controversy. The chairman, Henry Garnett, the chief geographer of the United States Geological Survey, vice-president of the National Geographic Society, and one of the founders of that organization in 1888, O. P. Austin, chief of the government bureau of statistics and secretary of the National Geographical Society; Dr. LaBoulaye, the director of terrestrial magnetism

PEARY PRODUCES HIS PROOFS OF THE POLE

Records and Observations Submitted to the National Geographic Society—The Society is Prepared to Examine Dr. Cook's Records at an Early Date

Washington, October 22.—Commander Robert E. Peary's proofs, records and observations that he reached the North Pole April 9, 1909, were today submitted to the National Geographic Society, and the board of management of that body referred them for examination to a subcommittee of experts comprising Henry Garnett, chief geographer of the United States Geological Survey, Rear Admiral C. M. Peabody, U.S.N., and O. H. Tutin, superintendent of the United States coast and geodetic surveys.

The society announced that the only question it now has to decide was whether Commander Peary reached the North Pole on the date claimed. The experts designated by the society will hold their first meeting within a few days. The scope of the investigation renders it probable that the subcommittee will not report its findings for several months, but when ready, the report will be submitted to a meeting of the board of management of the society. While the meeting was in progress and secretly after the submission of the Peary data, a messenger brought a cablegram from the University of Copenhagen regretting the university's inability to comply with the society's request that the institution waive its first claim to Dr. Cook's records.

Professor Charles L. Moore, president of the National Geographic Society, declared subsequently to the board meeting that the society believed Commander Peary's claim that he reached the pole should be passed upon without further delay.

The society is ready to make similar examinations of Dr. Cook's original observations and field notes. Professor Moore said, "but as he promised to send them to the University of Copenhagen and the society will not have an opportunity of seeing them for probably some months. It did not even lead to direct action on Commander Peary's observations until Dr. Cook's journal were received."

Coville is the botanist of the Department of Agriculture; Dr. Howard G. Henshaw was formerly professor of zoology in George Washington University. He is the author of works on geology and geography; Gilbert H. Grosvenor, the editor of the National Geographic magazine, compiled a map of the North Pole region showing the results of all expeditions and edited the scientific report of the Zeppelin polar expedition; C. H. Hays, a pioneer geologist of the United States Geological Survey, is one of the founders of the National Geographic Society. Henry is professor of meteorology in the United States weather bureau; W. H. Holmes is chief of the bureau of ethnology of the Smithsonian Institution and one of the principal authorities on Indians and Eskimos; Dr. G. Hart Merriam, chief of the United States biological survey, is one of the earlier explorers of Alaska, and of different sections of the western United States; and Dr. O. H. Tutin, one of the founders of the National Geographic Society, is superintendent of the United States coast and geodetic survey.

SLAIN BEFORE EYES OF BRIDE.

Melodramatic Murder Took Place in France.

Toulouse, France, October 22.—A wedding tragedy possessing all the thrilling details of a modern melodrama was enacted at Toulouse today. While the wedding party was waiting in the town hall a few minutes before the time fixed for the ceremony a woman whom the bridegroom had deserted stabbed him with a knife, and killed him.

The victim of the murder was M. Theophile Gouraud, while his intended bride was Miss Deland. They belonged to two of the best families in the south of France. A large party had gathered at the town hall in honor of the wedding, and were busily chatting together while waiting for the mayor, who was to perform the marriage ceremony.

Suddenly a woman, dressed in black and carrying a large kitchen knife in her hand, rushed in among the guests, and before any one could stop her had thrust her knife into the bridegroom and stabbed him in the neck. Death was instantaneous.

The rush of blood from the wound seemed to make the woman realize what she had done, for with a wild shriek she fell to the ground inconvulsed. The bride, who was a witness of the tragedy, also fainted, and all was confusion.

The guests rushed out into the street shouting "Murder!" and the police took charge of the scene. The woman quickly recovered from her swoon and was taken into custody. She was identified as Miss Bogermond, formerly the wife of a wealthy resident of Toulouse. She declared that two years ago she fell in love with M. Gouraud. He reciprocated her affection, and she finally deserted her home, her husband and her children and eloped with him.

"We were not happy together," she added, "and he soon tired of me. He left me, and when I heard a few months later that he had married, I was married to Miss Deland. I drove me mad."

Superintendent Price has written the Board of Trade, censuring the people for complaining of the trouble and pointing out that publicity avoids them nothing, and newspaper notoriety if that kind is unfavorable. He refers to the fact that three cars of incoming freight remained in the Clarendon yards for some time before they were unloaded. Clarendon people ask if it was their duty to unload them, and add that if a farmer put a hand on one of these cars and attempted to unload it, he would be arrested.

There is a car shortage here and a very serious car shortage, and conditions have reached an acute stage.

Condemn Asiatic Labor.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—"Down with alien labor" was the spirit of the meeting of the District Labor Council, held at the Labor Temple tonight. A resolution was passed condemning Asiatic labor, especially in regard to the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Is the divisional point between Edmonton and the Rocky Mountains on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and the seventh terminal on this great transcontinental line.

EDSON is situated in the centre of the greatest coal fields in the Province of Alberta, and is surrounded by the finest agricultural land and untold mineral wealth.

SOME FACTS ABOUT EDSON

The divisional point, taken from Pamphlet L 2, 1909, issued by the General Passenger Dept. of the G.T.P. Ry. Co., Winnipeg, Man. The divisional townsites are, west of Winnipeg:

Rivers, Man.—Population 850 when six months old.
Melville, Sask.—Population 700 in six months, 1400 when less than 1 year old.
Watrous—300 when four months old.
Wainwright, Alta.—400 when four months old.
EDSON, Alta., opened 1909.

(Signed) G. W. RYLEY.

Look how they have grown! What will Edson be with its equally as good agricultural lands, its large area of timber limits, and its big deposits of coal, which these other divisional points haven't. Just look at the prices:
